The Beaver Watershed Alliance (“BWA”) announced a free workshop that will be held on December 14th titled:

Forestry Workshop: Maximizing Forest Health & Profitability

The workshop will be held at the Kieth Ham Pavilion – Withrow Springs State Park in Huntsville, Arkansas.

The guest speaker is Michael Mitchell who is an Arkansas Registered Forester with Devereaux & Associates LLC.

BWA states that Mr. Mitchell has:

... decades of experience working with landowners and forest management in NW Arkansas.

The workshop will include a forest walk and talk where participants can ask questions and see real world examples of when and where forestry practices are needed (or not). This will include the logistics of getting practices implemented.

An additional topic includes a discussion of the Regional Conservation Partnership Program which is described as a “dedicated funding program for producers and forest landowners in the War Eagle watershed.”

Additional information and a link for registration can be found here.
