The Arkansas Water Resources Center (“AWRC”) announced that its annual water conference will be held on July 23rd and 24th in Fayetteville, Arkansas.

AWRC states that the theme for the conference is “The Value of Water.”

The conference will address the “various ways that abundant high-quality water is essential for the health of people and the economic vitality of communities, states, and the region.” Over 150 people from research, state agencies, engineering firms, and other backgrounds attended the 2017 conference.

Additional information about the conference and a call for presentations will be circulated in the next several weeks. You may contact Erin Scott at erins@uark.edu with any questions.
